MACHINERY FOR NEW MILL

Boilers, Engines and Milling Machinery Bought Last Week.

CAPACITY 350 BARRELS.

Building Will be Ready For Machinery January 1st, 1907.

The Climax Milling Company closed a contract last Saturday for the milling machinery of their new plant. The engine and boilers were bought a few days before. Competition was close, there being twenty-two representatives from different engine and boiler builders and milling machinery firms during the week from nearly a dozen cities.

The Climax Co. went slowly in selecting their machinery as they wanted nothing but the most modern, tried and approved, something that won't have to be replaced in a short time. The first purchase made was a 300 horse-power Corliss engine from the Hooser, Owens Rentschler Co., of Hamilton, Ohio. This company is recognized everywhere as builders of the very highest grade of stationary engines. Sixteen years ago the company put in one of their engines for the Crescent Milling Co., and with continuous use it has cost nothing for repairs except re-boring the cylinder once. The Climax people know they will have one of the best heavy duty engines made in this country.

The boilers were next bought. The Atlas Boiler and Engine Works, of Molay, Ind., secured this contract. The boilers will be of the "water tube" type, which is something new here and are said to be the best in every way made. This company will also furnish all pumps and connections and feed pumps.

The milling machinery was bought late Saturday evening from the Bamara Less M'f'g Co., of Moline, Ill. Mr. Wm. Ebert, of Louisville, represented the successful company. He sold two milling outfits to the late John T. Rabbeeth, of Louisville, and his firm is now putting up a large steel reinforced elevator for the Dunlop Milling Co., of Clarksville. The machinery sold by Mr. Ebert will have a capacity of 350 barrels per day. The capacity of boilers and engines will allow an increase of 150 barrels. The company has planned from the first for this. The Climax Co. will pay special attention to making corn meal and has bought a mill that will enable them to furnish from 600 to 800 bushels of superior meal per day.

The company will put in a dynamo for furnishing 150 electric lights and an electric motor. The plans for the building are being changed somewhat by the architects in order to make the building when completed "fit" the machinery and engine, which are much larger than when first contemplated. It has not yet been decided by the company whether the building will be brick or reinforced concrete. This will be decided after all the bids for construction are in.

Mr. Ross A. Rogers, the manager, and Mr. Oliver, head miller, think they have not only selected the very best milling machinery and engine made, but think they have done one of the hardest weeks' work of their lives. Night and day they have been examining, suggesting and listening to suggestions until they have about worn themselves out and are now ready for a rest. But they won't get it, as their work has just begun. They want to have ground broken for the building about the last of this week or the first of next.

As we said some weeks since Hopkinsville will soon be a milling center and furnish a big part of the Southern people with their flour. When the Climax Mills start making flour the capacity of the four mills will be about 2,000 barrels per day. But there is plenty of room for others and the next mill to follow the Climax will be welcome and will have plenty of territory—the whole South—into which to ship its products. We can't get factories, so let's have more mills and plenty of them. Home consumption doesn't amount to anything, but the South in the field.

H. C. MOORE IS TAX COLLECTOR

A Special Meeting of the City Council Was Held Friday Night.

MR. TANDY'S SUCCESSOR

The Meeting Was Short and Election on First Ballot.

The City Council met in special session Friday night and Mayor Meacham officially informed the Board of the death of City Tax Collector Gus Tandy on July 24, and stated that he had called the meeting to fill the vacancy.

On motion of Councilman Davis the Mayor appointed Councilmen Davis, Twyman and Ware to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Mr. Tandy.

A ballot was then ordered to nominate a Tax Collector. On the first ballot H. C. Moore received 4 votes and Henry Hurt 3 votes.

The roll was called and Mr. Moore was elected, receiving 7 votes. Adjournment followed.

The new collector is the well-known traveling salesman, who represented a Nashville wholesale grocery firm. He resigned Saturday and immediately qualified and entered upon his duties for the term ending January, 1908. His excellent qualifications are recognized by all.

WYATT WATT,

The Colored Politician, Died Suddenly Friday.

Wyatt Watt, a colored carpenter and politician, died suddenly Friday night, of cholera morbus, from eating cold vegetables Thursday night. He was about 60 years old and was a recognized leader of his race. Several years ago he made a demo for jailer but was defeated by a Democrat. He was a speaker of great force and natural oratory and in every campaign was found on the stump for his party. Until recently he was road boss for the Road Supervisor, but lost his place with the defeat of his party last year. Since April 1st he had been working at the carpenter's trade. He leaves a family.

CLOSE CONTEST

Between Two Powerful Fraternal Nines.

The game of baseball between the Elks and Odd Fellows was hotly contested Friday afternoon and finally ended at 6 o'clock with both sides claiming it, though the scorer made it 17 to 17. Mayor Meacham acted as umpire and at one time narrowly escaped being mobbed. The proceeds amounted to $28.80, most of which was given to a poor woman to buy a sewing machine.

Ordered to Mayfield.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Capt. E. W. Clark was ordered to go at once with Co. D, to guard Allen Mathis, the negro rapist, who outraged Miss Ethel McLane. His trial begins to-day. The Company left last night.

Released on Bond.

Tobe Wells, who at his examining trial before U. S. Commissioner Yonta, was held over to the Federal grand jury, has executed bond for his appearance at the October term of court at Owensboro.

Important Meeting.

A very important business meeting will be held at the Baptist church to-morrow night after prayer meeting.

New York Life.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 30th, 1906.

Mr. Walter F. Garnett, Agent, New York Life Insurance Co.,

Dear Sir:—

It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 223,593, for $1,500.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $52.50, taken out with you Apr. 29, '86. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $406.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,215.88, (which is more than I have paid in in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable at my death for $2,219.00.

The cash settlement of $1,215.88 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 54 per cent. compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a creditable one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

Yours very truly, C. E. WEST.

The Old Reliable Jewelry House

of Hopkinsville is, after all, the best place to get anything in the jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that we have a record to maintain, and no slipshod methods, no careless workmanship, no lack of quality, is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable Jeweler.

The State College of Kentucky, LEXINGTON, KY.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, and Mining Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive free tuition, room rent in the dormitories, fuel and light, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses. The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the College to supply. The matriculation for the last year was, including Summer school, 815.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering, instruction in science and in arts. The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of "college," is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, university work.

The completion of the College home for young women provides facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to young women of obtaining a thorough education in classics, modern language, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history, and political economy.

No other institution in the State offers advantages for education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

The Normal Department will be on a better footing than ever heretofore. Last year's largely increased attendance, with the unprecedented growth of the Summer Normal School, both indicate that an era of prosperity surpassing that of all previous years has opened for the Normal Department of the State College.

The Specialty Breeder.

PLEASE for the poultry man or woman who raises more than one variety of thoroughbred fowls! Why not? Cannot the lover of the beautiful say of flowers, for instance, raise more than one kind? Does not a breeder pass from one flock to another of his different chosen varieties, taking particular notice of their different points, good looks, good qualities, carriage, etc.? In one variety he sees a male and female that he cannot help petting, because it is such a perfect beauty. Then take the whole flock or pen of one quality, say, of buff. What prettier sight to the lover of pretty fowls than to scatter the grain in circles, or half circles, or rows, and watching the yellow beauties feast at their tables? As the owner goes to feed his white birds he grows enthusiastic over the white purity of their plumage and for the time forgets the buff. He goes among them, perhaps lies down on the grass—if he has time—they will crowd around him, looking for more to eat, for a healthy fowl is always hearty, and it will be like the old game of clubfoot that was played when I was a child, and is played today; if he grins at them he will get a pinch, or rather, a peck, for they will try to get his teeth, sure. You know they have none of their own. And while this lovely of the fancy objects to parting with his teeth, it will amuse him greatly. He will pet this one, then that one. What a fine comb this one has; here is one with such a beautiful plumage, and here is one whose grand carriage and correct shape is superb. Next, he goes to the pen of the old reliable, the Barred Plymouth Rocks. Here, too, they are perfectly gentle. We who do not raise this kind must acknowledge the many good qualities of this, our American breed. And he, the owner, looking with pride at the good shape of the fowls, perfect barring of their plumage, remembering their many good qualities, and knowing that he has helped bring them to this near perfection, cannot help feeling a greater interest in his flock than some other one, though that some other one be an admirer of this variety. Suppose a breeder keeps three distinct breeds, all of, say, the buff variety of such large birds as Wyandotte, Plymouth Rock and S. C. Buff Orpington. Without regarding the rose comb of the first, and difference in legs and skin of the Wyandottes and Rocks from Orpingtons, he would have a good chance to study the shape of these breeds. I have good birds from eggs purchased from the raiser of more than one breed.

To be sure, he would have to give more time, more study to poultry, and is supposed to do so. He has the different breeds and varieties and must study them, or get left in the business. I do not speak against the specialty breeder; no need to; his place is secure. The man must make his place in the poultry world, be he specialty or otherwise, and it would not do for one to commence with too many breeds, but do start with one good one, unless you are afflicted with a great deal of money, a good deal of brains and educated for the business. As for my humble self, I keep one kind, work with them myself and strive to make them better. But I do admire the poultry man or woman who can keep more than one breed.—Mrs. W. A. Gibbon American Poultry Advocate.

Eggs Galore.

Isaac Wilder, of Little Compton, Rhode, Island, has the largest poultry farm in the world. He ships from 130,000 to 150,000 dozen eggs a year. He keeps his fowls on the colony plan, housing about forty in a house 8x12 in size. These houses are about 160 feet apart, set in long rows over gentle sloping fields. He has one hundred of these houses scattered over three or four fields. The food is loaded into a wagon which is driven about to each house in turn, the attendant feeding as he goes. At the afternoon feeding the eggs are collected. The morning food is a mash of cooked vegetables and mixed meal made up the afternoon of the day before. The afternoon feed is whole corn the year round, but of course more of this is given in winter than in summer. —Live Stock Tribune.

These eggs are to be taken to the church each Sunday afternoon at the hour of the Epworth League meeting and placed in a basket at one side of the pulpit. Mr. Herman will then stamp each egg with the date on which it was laid and on the following day will bring them to Baltimore for sale.

Hatching the Chicks.

SAYS M. K. Boyer, in the Feather: "From that early date down to the present time, science has gradually solved the problem of the growth of life in the egg, of which, briefly the following data is given.

"An infertile egg, or rather one without a germ, is termed 'clear.' A fertile egg becomes 'addled or rotten' when the germ dies before the chick is formed.

"In about a day after incubation begins, life is perceptible. Toward the close of the second day, the first appearance of red blood is found on the yolk bag. On the third day, the heart appears. On the fourth day, the pupil of the eye can be distinguished. On the fifth day, the lungs begin to be formed. On the sixth day, the gall bladder is first perceptible. On the seventh day, the bill can be seen. On the eighth day, the brain, wings, thighs and legs are formed. On the ninth day the bones are shaped. On the tenth day, the muscles of the wings are completely formed. On the eleventh day, the arteries begin to be distinct.

"On the twelfth or thirteenth day if the membrane enveloping the white of the egg be examined very cautiously by opening the shell, it will present, Blumenbach says, without any artificial injection, one of the most splendid spectacles that occurs in the whole organic creation—the most simple yet the most perfect substitute for the lungs. It exhibits a surface covered with countless blood vessels, venous and arterial, branching through its texture. The veins are of bright scarlet color, carrying oxygenated blood to the chick; while the arteries, on the other hand, are of a deep crimson or livid red, bringing the carbonated blood from the body embryo. The functions of the two are thus the reverse of those they perform after the chick respirates.

"There used to be a theory that the mother hen broke the shell to free the chick. This, however, was exploded when incubators were invented. Yet, notwithstanding the long existence of the theory, Albert Magnus, as early as the thirteenth century, held that the chicken, and not the mother, performed that work.

"The present day poultry science has brought this development of the chick down to the following fact:

"Twelve hours after incubation has begun, the linings of the head and body are discovered. Close observation has found the heart to beat by the close of the day. At the end of forty-eight hours two vesicles of blood are distinguished, and pulsation of which are visible. At the fiftieth hour an auricle of the heart appears. At the end of seventy hours, undistinguished wings, and on the head two bubbles for the forepart and hind part of the head. The liver appears toward the fifth at the end of one hundred and thirty-one hours, the first voluntary motion is observed. Seven hours later the lungs and stomach become visible, and the intestines, the loins, and the upper jaw are seen at the end of one hundred and forty-two hours. The seventh day, the brain, which is slimy begins to have some consistence. At the one hundred and nineteenth hour of incubation the bill opens and the flesh appears in the breast. Four hours after that the sternum is seen; that is to say, the breast bone. At the two hundred and tenth hour, the ribs come out of the back, the bill is very visible, as well as the gall bladder. The bill becomes green at the end of two hundred and thirty-six hours. About four hours later the feathers begin to shoot out, and the skull becomes gristly. The eyes appear at the two hundred and sixty-fourth hour; and at the two hundred and eighty-eighth hour the ribs are perfect. At the end of the three hundred and thirty-first hour the spleen draws near to the stomach, and the lungs to the chest. At the end of three hundred and fifty-five hours, the bill frequently opens and shuts, and at the end of one hundred and fifty-one hours, or the eighteenth day, the first cry of the chick is heard.

"Thus it is by so many different degrees that these creatures are brought into life. All these progressions are made by rule, and there is not one without sufficient reason. No part of its body could appear sooner or later without the whole embryo suffering; and each of its limbs appear at the proper moment."

HOME ENDORSEMENT

Hundreds of Hopkinsville Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Hopkinsville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Hopkinsville reader. Surely the expression of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following: J. B. Cravens, blacksmith, of 320 West 19th street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills practically gave me a new back. For three or four years a kidney trouble had caused me the most constant and severe aches and pains through my back and compelled me to constantly complain in more than one way. When arising in the morning I felt sore and lame and had to make a great effort to dress myself. The trouble grew worse and a weakness of the kidneys set in which caused me a great deal of annoyance. Willing to try almost anything I purchased Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as I saw them advertised locally and gave a box to A. Johnson & Co.'s drugstore. They brought me a great deal of benefit. My back is well and strong now and the trouble relieved. I have a great deal of faith in Doan's Kidney Pills. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial there was a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pain in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Old Chronic Sores.

As a dressing for old chronic sores there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Salve. While it is not advisable to heal old sores entirely, they should be kept in good condition, for which this salve is especially valuable. For sale by L. L. There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to 60 dropful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia,
heart failure or apoplexy are often
the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance
the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.
Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.
It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized.
It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.
Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
